DUI SUD Assessments

Coming Soon

Availia will be offering DUI-related Substance Use Disorder assessments upon completion of Behavioral Health Agency licensure through the Washington State Department of Health. DUI assessments require agency-level certification and are not currently available.

What to Expect When Available

DUI SUD assessments are comprehensive clinical evaluations conducted in accordance with Washington State WAC 246-341-0820 requirements. Results are documented in a written report suitable for court, legal, and agency use.

In the Meantime

If you have been referred for a general Substance Use Disorder assessment that is not DUI-related and not related to another legal charge like Domestic Violence or Assault, etc., those services are available now. Visit our Assessments page or contact us directly to get started.

If you have a DUI-related assessment requirement with a pending deadline, we recommend contacting a BHA-licensed agency in the Spokane area. We are happy to provide referral information upon request.
